The Tempest's Tune

Panel 1: The Battered Door

Scene

Mira stands in a cluttered seaside workshop, a glowing, erratic musical box in her hands. Rain pours through a splintered window, and a massive stormy wave churns outside.

Caption

A rhythm out of tune.

Narration

The storm had come for the secret.

Dialogue

Not yet.

Panel 2: The Rhythm Breaks

Scene

The musical box's light flickers red. Wind whips through the workshop, knocking over books and blueprints. Mira frantically adjusts the gears, her face showing determination and panic.

Caption

The storm demands precision.

Narration

The gears were spinning too fast.

Dialogue

Hold on!

The Tempest's Tune

Panel 3: Dancing with the Storm

Scene

Mira steps onto the rain-slicked balcony, holding the box. She taps out a rhythm on her knee, her hair whipping wildly in the wind, her expression focused and intense.

Caption

Finding her footing.

Narration

She matched the chaos with her own beat.

Dialogue

Listen to me.

Panel 4: The Storm's Crescendo

Scene

The box glows brilliant gold. The storm's waves crest and curl, mirroring the box's rhythm. Mira, smiling, steps into the surf, her boots splashing in the churning water.

Caption

Perfect harmony.

Narration

The sea answered her call.

Dialogue

Now!

Panel 5: The Calm After

Scene

The storm has cleared, and the sun breaks through. The sea is calm. Mira, soaking wet but triumphant, sits in the doorway of the intact workshop, the box glowing softly and steadily. She looks at the peaceful horizon.

Caption

Tamed and whole.

Narration

The silence was music of its own.

Dialogue

Just in time.
